Fishing tournaments for boat builders are akin to motorsports for auto manufacturers. These events present an opportunity to match up against the best the competition has to offer. And competition results in an improved product for customers.

The fishing tournament circuit in South Florida has evolved into a tight knit community of passionate sport fishing teams that compete year-round targeting a variety of species. Some of these events are highly competitive, with the best of the best fishing hard for up to three days straight in pursuit of big money prizes, while others are family friendly one-day outings with more of a focus on camaraderie and the bragging rights that come with success.

SeaVee Boats has a long track record of sponsoring, and competing in a wide range of tournaments. Over the years, SeaVee has racked up some impressive victories, the most recent being Operation Sailfish in Palm Beach. Not only did Advanced Roofing's SeaVee 390 outright win the Tournament with 23 Sailfish releases, but SeaVee Boats also took the crown for the Boat Builders Throwdown beating out the likes of Viking, Yellowfin, and Contender by taking both first and second place overall.

Most importantly however, SeaVee is proud to support the local community as a sponsor of these events. We all share the love of fishing. And when we fish together, everybody wins.
